Subject: Java and Xp

I hope you lawyers realize you have tens of thousands of overworked developers rewriting web deployed code to replace Java on their applications. .You Mr. Gates and his Gatesian dreams are really accelerating. with the help of out federal government. You have effectively destroyed a very powerful technology overnight. Mr. Gates has removed Java from XP so XP users cannot access java enabled websites. I personally will be rewriting 1000's of lines of code using C# and P# I suppose or removing java from my sites. You guys used the war to hide this dastardly deed and we are paying for your miscalulations. Where is the oversight you promised. I don't think all your lawyers are working on Homeland Security. At least not the ones who prosecuted thei miscarriage of justice. You decided and now we must pay. I don't believe you ever inteded oversight of this debacle. I hope you can tell I am really mad. This is like the government submitting citizens to torture.... Gene
